STATEMENT: Illinois Latino Agenda and Advocates Disappointed in the Cook County Democratic Party for Not Prioritizing Equity in their Slating Process

CHICAGO - The following is a statement from the Illinois Latino Agenda (ILA), a coalition committed to advocating for equitable representation of Latinos throughout our state government, in response to the CCDP's slating decision, which was announced today:

"Today, the Cook County Democratic Party missed an opportunity to support a more representative and equitable State Supreme Court. While Illinois' population is 18% Latino and Latinos are one of the fastest growing demographics in the state, Illinois has never had a Latino Supreme Court Justice.

"Having a Latino Supreme Court Justice with roots in our community, who knows what issues matter to our communities can help the Court make decisions that are more culturally informed and inclusive. While we are disappointed in the Party's decision, we know it is ultimately up to the voters to choose who will sit on the State's highest court in 2024.

"The Illinois Latino Agenda remains committed to advancing the wellbeing of Latinos in Illinois, and will continue working to leverage Latino civic engagement and voter turnout."
